FROM PASTOR'S DESK

CHRIST'S COMING:

During Advent, we think of the coming of Christ both in terms of what began 2024 years ago and of the fullness of his coming still to be experienced. In this combination of backward look and forward look there is a creative tension between what has already been realized and what we anticipate. The tension is illustrated strikingly when we repeat the Lord's Prayer. We say, "Thine is the kingdom," yet we pray, "Thy kingdom come." God's reign is inaugurated, yet its consummation still lies beyond our ken. There is no real conflict between those two aspects of reality. Christians believe in the coming victory of Christ just because they have experienced his present power. An early Christian writer resolved the paradox by saying: "We do not yet see everything in subjection to him, but we see Jesus" (Hebrews 2:8-9)
