Let us gather as a community to celebrate the blessings that surround us

FROM PASTOR'S DESK

Thanksgiving Days:

Charles Dickens told an audience that instead of having one Thanksgiving Day each year we should have 364. “Use that one day just for complaining and griping,” he said. “Use the other 364 days to thank God each day for the many blessings He has showered upon you. – William Folprecht.

The giving of thanks to God is always a natural response on the part of His creatures, and it is never to be associated with the absence of hardship – as so many of us think today. Is this concept of gratitude eroding today? The KJV has a very special word for this condition of life. It is called murmuring. We don't think that we have been heard. We don't think that others are behaving the way that we think they should behave. Therefore, the half-suppressed grumbings, the contemptuous complaints offered in a corner, and the lecherous side comments.

The Bible is full of murmurers or, as we call them, complainers. “And they murmured against the good man of the house.” Who? Those labourers who received their exact wages for which they contracted. “And the scribes and the Pharisees murmured against the disciples because they dined with publicans and sinners.” “And the Jews murmured against Jesus because he said, “I am the bread of life.”

Thanksgiving begins with the awareness of God. We feel His living presence with us, among us, and in us. He is at the very heart of life. “This is the day the Lord has made. We will rejoice and be glad in it.” “God has given me this breath of life. Thanks be to God.” “The earth is the Lord's and all that therein is.”
